THE PROBLEM

The Gold Market Moves Trillions — But Still Runs on Trust Gaps.

The Gold Market Moves Trillions — But Still Runs on Trust Gaps.

At the core of the problem is a lack of trust: supply chains are hard to verify, pricing is often manipulated, and counterparty risk remains a constant threat. Even in Dubai, one of the world's top gold hubs, only a few players can meet the standards of institutional buyers.

what AURUM was built to do.

THE RESULT?

A massive, high-margin industry that is still waiting for someone to bring clarity, structure, and scale.

A close-up photograph of a gold bar and a circuit board. The gold bar, in the foreground, is inscribed with 'CREDIT SUISSE', 'ONE OUNCE FINE GOLD', '999.9', and '225120'. It also features a small logo for 'GHI ESSAYEUR FONDEUR'. To the left, a blue circuit board with numerous gold-colored pads is visible. The background is dark and out of focus.

That's exactly what AURUM was built to do.

- First-look access to government-approved gold supply
- Below-market pricing
- Full traceability and geopolitical insulation
- Trusted legitimacy in an industry built on reputation

Not just another gold trader.

We are backed by a strategic partner who manages mines and allocates gold for central banks in Ghana and Guinea Conakry.

This de-risks our supply chain at the most critical point:

THE SOURCE.

Dubai Needs Gold. We Deliver It at Scale — Compliant, Clean, Certified.

- ☑ Mines with verified origin
- ☑ Emirates SkyCargo-secured transport
- ☑ Buyers pre-contracted via LC
- ☑ Vaulting, assay, and full DMCC/OECD compliance

We move gold like an institution — not a hustle.

Refineries and jewelers in Dubai are hungry for compliant, traceable gold.
But supply bottlenecks, inconsistent paperwork, and lack of financial structuring hold back reliable trade.
